Installation springs

Simplifying the installation of flooring

The innovative installation springs from FN Neuhofer Holz are a huge help when installing. The easy handling and the practical application save you time and nerves.

Security

The decisive advantage of this application is that these installation springs can remain in the expansion joint after the floor has been laid – without causing any damage, unlike forgotten spacer wedges. The FN IS 1 and FN IS 2 installation springs prevent buckling of the floor due to moisture, temperature changes or forgotten spacer wedges. This gives the floor enough space to move.

Effective support

The FN IS 1 and IS 2 installation springs were developed as effective support for the floor layer when laying so-called click flooring, where the springs can be used for a floor thickness of 6 mm / $1/4"$ and up.

Simply insert the FN installation springs into the expansion joint instead of the spacer wedges when laying the floor.

Product advantages:

- Very easy to handle.
- Prevents floor bulging.
- Helps centre the flooring.
- Long-term prevention of gaps in the flooring.
- Practical application due to individual snapoff springs.
- IS 1 for floor thicknesses of 6 mm / $1/4"$ and up (laminat floor),
IS 2 for floor thicknesses of 11 mm / $7/16"$ and up (parquet floor).
- Patented (AT 503230, AT 503231 B1).
